REASONS

11. Findings on Point No.1:- The complainant has approached this forum seeking for the relief of interest on delay period. The grounds urged are that the complainant has booked a flat bearing No.4103 in the project of the respondent by entering into an agreement of sale on 10/05/2019. As per the said agreement the respondent was supposed to handover possession of the said flat to the complainant in March 2020. But till date he has not handed over the possession of the flat to the complainant.

12. In response to the notice, the respondent has appeared before the Authority through his counsel. But he has not contested the matter by filing statement of objections, producing documents, etc.

13. Looking to the averments of agreement, parties herein have entered into an agreement of sale on 10/05/2019. The agreement of sale is a key instrument which binds the parties in a contractual relation so as to be properly enforced in accordance with law, it is quite necessary that it shall be free from any ambiguity and vagueness. As per the terms of agreement of sale, the respondent was supposed to handover the possession of said flat to the complainant before 31/03/2020. But the respondent had not completed and handover the possession of the said flat to the complainant till date

14. As per decision of of Hon'ble Supreme Court in appeal No.6750-57/2021, M/S Newtech Promoters and vs The State of Uttar Pradesh it is held as under project, will be required to be paid interest by the promoter for every months' delay in handing over possession at such rates as may be prescribed'.

The said principle is aptly applicable to the present case on hand.

15. As per sec.18 of RERA Act, the respondent is liable to pay interest for delay period. Since the claim of the complainant remained unchallenged, considering the cogent materials available of record, the delay in handing over possession being apparent, this Authority see no legal impediment in allowing the complaint as prayed. The complainant has paid Rs. 61,72,710/- (Sixty one lakh seventy two thousand and seven hundred ten only) to the respondent towards sale consideration.

16. In response to the notice the respondent has appeared before the Authority through his counsel. But, he has not contested the matter by participating in the proceedings, filing objections, producing documents on his behalf etc. Therefore, claim of the complainant remained undisputed and unchallenged. Hence, there is no reason to discard the claim of complainant. In the absence of any resistance by the respondent no option is left to this Authority except to accept the claim of complainant which is corroborated with the cogent evidence.

17. Therefore, it is incumbent upon the respondent to pay the interest on delay period to the complainant. Accordingly, the point raised above is answered in the Affirmative.

18. Findings on point No.2:- In view of the above discussion, the complaint deserves to be allowed. Hence, we proceed to pass the following

ORDER

In exercise of the powers conferred under Section 31 of the Real Estate (Regulation and Development) Act, 2016, the
